Two Door Cinema Club, "Talk"

Two Door Cinema Club have released their new single "Talk" and accompanying video. Unveiled Monday on BBC Radio 1, the track is a joyful pop dance track with a certain disco vibe.

The song is the first work by the English band since their 2016 album Gameshow.

The wry social commentary is a trademark of Two Door Cinema Club and can be seen and heard throughout the new video.

Speaking about the new record, singer Alex Trimble says: "I love the pop thing. I love experimenting and going to different places. I love doing things that are a little bit weird, and I love the idea of doing something we to different places, I love doing things that are a little bit wonky and I love the idea of doing something we haven't done before."

The reveal of "Talk" was teased internationally with a series of billboards in London, Paris, Brussels, Berlin, Sydney, New York and Mexico City.
